ploy the L T who is an Assistant Master of the Normal School at a temporary hand on Rs 30 or so may be employed to do the work in the morning which the LJ has been taking.

These arrangements will be temporary until a Kannarese-Kannada LJ can be exclusively secured for the Maharanis School

To make the teaching of Agriculture efficient in the Normal School it is necessary to get practical demonstrations. A writer on Rs 15 a month is also required for the Normal School, as at present the valuable time of the Headmaster is wasted on a great deal of writing work
